- If you also want to claim for loss of earnings: You also need a statement of earnings for the previous one-year period from the time of the accident, which includes the employee's net wage – this can be obtained from DT ITTC.Payroll@ps-bpo.com , or DT TSI.Payroll@ps-bpo.com, or in case of 099, contact your local payroll accountant by email (this is usually done within 7 working days; electronic version is enough, indicate this so you don't have to wait for the internal post)

Further information:

The amount of insurance benefits (loss of earnings) may not exceed 100% of the Insured's net daily wage.

Net daily wage (daily wage)

For Employees earning monthly wages, the daily net wage is three hundred and sixty-fifth of the Annual Wage, less personal income tax and contributions deducted by law.
